Career Summary

Dedicated and highly motivated professional with a deep understanding of subject curriculum and a proven track record of working effectively within prestigious institution. Specializing in Finance, Taxation, and General Business Administration, my comprehensive knowledge in these domains positions me as an expert in my field. My true calling lies in the noble profession of teaching, fueled by an unwavering passion and dedication to imparting knowledge. I am committed to contributing to the growth and success of educational initiatives, aspiring to make a lasting impact on an international scale. Passionate and dedicated educator with a proven track record of organizing impactful academic events, including international conferences, Faculty Development Programs (FDPs), and various other engaging activities. Seeking opportunities to leverage my expertise and visionary mindset, I am poised to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of education and making a meaningful difference in the lives of students

Research Interest

I have actively contributed to the academic community by publishing numerous research papers. As a continuous learner, my enthusiasm for research extends beyond the conventional boundaries of teaching. I am driven by a desire to explore innovative pedagogical approaches and contribute valuable insights to the field of finance

Currently pursuing Ph.D. in Commerce from JAIN (Deemed-to-be University), my research endeavors center around advancing our understanding of intricate financial and business concepts. Through a meticulous exploration of theoretical frameworks and empirical analyses, my work aims to contribute valuable insights to the academic discourse in commerce. My research focuses on Microfinance and Financial inclusion. And I am committed to addressing contemporary challenges in the field. With an unwavering dedication to expanding the knowledge boundaries, my Ph.D. journey reflects a deep-seated passion for scholarly inquiry, with the ultimate goal of making substantive contributions to the evolving landscape of commerce research.
